What a lamer that boy is. 😏

Here's the story...

I'm sitting with some friends from the STMC group meeting tonight, enjoying the company, discussions, etc.. Everyone's just kind'a walking around, shaking hands, saying hello, etc... when this guy walks up to me, asks me how I'm doing, how my meal was (I wasn't eating, and made a comment as to how good it tasted), asked me how my car was... I said something to the effect of how my fuel pump is having issues, but, other than that, alright.

Posts: 32

He proceeds to tell me that he's John.. the one that I was shit talking on the boards.

(My order may be a smidge off here, but, you'll get the gist)

I had to think about it for a second, and then it hit me... I said, 'yeah, I know who you are'. (I had never met, or even seen the guy before) And he asked if I wanted to run. I said 'Ya know what, I'll run you'..

I was thinking that since he was here, and his SKANK ass hoe's were videotaping this 'event' that it would be FINALLY worth it to just get it over with... I bet you'll NEVER see that video from Mi Casa (or whatever the place was called)

He said something as he was walking off about how he'll meet me outside.. blah blah blah.

I finished my meeting with STMC, and walked outside fully expecting a video camera, and John to come up and shit talk...

Guess what....

HE LEFT

I guess he decided that my answer to him, in his mind before he did all this, was that I was to back down, or tell him that I'd run him at the airport, etc. And, if it were anyone else, I would have.

I also think that he had this 'copy cat' idea in his mind that since Bernie got him on film backing down, or wanting to kick his ass, etc... that he'd try and do the same to me.

John... when you read this, and I know you will... Take some advice from a total stranger... Quit spending money on your car & time trolling the boards trying to figure out where people are going to be (You can't tell me or anyone else that it was just PURE chance that you saw my car in a parking lot in the middle of McAllen). Here's my advice:

Take all that time and money... go spend it on a therapist. It'll do you some good.

I was incredibly stupid like you in my past... it took some time to realize that what I was doing was just stupid, unsafe for me, and my family. I realized it when I was about 23. I'm 27 now, and I think your even older than I am. I hope you grow up before you kill yourself. Or even worse.. someone else.

Now.. this isn't a call out, or a shit talking message, or anything else... it is nothing but what you read.

John.. You missed your chance to run me on the street. I've told you before, and I'll tell you again, right now, right here... I'll run you.. but ONLY at a PCA event at the Airport where there is nothing and nobody to hit for miles. You can look up event dates and times at www.rgvpca.org - I'll even pay your entry fee. This has been a long standing callout & fact to anyone who wants to race me. I'm there at almost every event, ready to go.

And last... I do things like this for fun. My car is a toy, and I don't need it to show the world who I am, or what I do. When you come to that realization, your world becomes a much nicer place to live in.

I'll let whoever chime in who wants to as to who was there... most of them aren't gonna be on this board. (Remember I run the STMC board, and it was a STMC meeting).. but, there was about.. oh.. 20-30 people there when he showed up.. AND the video cameras...

FWIW, IAH is a borring airport.. but FREE internet 😊

Spoke to John. He says he waited outside but you never came out. I don't think he knew you were going to finish up your meeting so he thought you didn't want to run.

I won't call BS on that.. I'll let him show his own lies on tape. Let him show you the video where I TOLD him I'd run him.

Go ahead, ask him.

Like I said above, you'll NEVER see it.

I've got a boat load of pepople who saw it, and he has the video... He left not but 2 minutes after he walked out.
